

I don't like it. I and many people like me have busy lives and can only watch desired programs by recording them and watching when we find the time. This would mean either we rearrange our lives to the tv guide, which isn't even possible, or stop watching all together. I think we would stop watching, which would really hurt ratings!!